LOCAL COMPANY TO BE FEATURED ON NATIONALLY TELEVISED "ASK THIS OLD HOUSE"

WHO: Salem-based DeSantis Landscapes will be providing advice to a Tualatin, Ore., homeowner on an upcoming segment of "Ask This Old House." DeSantis is well known throughout the Willamette Valley for its natural yard care programs and services.

WHAT: Tualatin homeowner Mary Calder wrote the producers of the PBS show "Ask This Old House" seeking help in taking care of her "soggy" and "full of moss" lawn. The producers selected Calder's home for a future segment and has asked DeSantis Landscapes, along with Oregon State University's laboratory director for the Department of Crop and Soil Science Will Austin, to provide advice to the homeowner. Taping for the show at Calder's home will occur this week and DeSantis Landscapes will be on hand to provide guidance and assistance in clearing up Calder's multiple problems and cultivating a gorgeous and healthy yard.

WHERE: 17335 SW Cheyenne Way
Tualatin, OR 97062

WHEN: June 28, 2007
Filming will begin at approximately 8:00 a.m.
